The MK5 Thunderflash is the benchmark product for distraction and diversion. Airsoft and Paintball players use this product to divert their opponents attention when they can't get an aim on them, a simple but very effective product designed to mimic the version used by the military. The Enola Gaye version is tested and approved for use in paintball and airsoft without the military intensity of throwing real grenades at each other.

The effect of a MK5 is just a loud high pitched noise effect; the ignition system is our trusted friction igniter, just snap off the cap and strike it against the fuse.
