

Replica of the XD-E Springfield Armory combining realism and performance

The Springfield Armory XD-E Airsoft Pistol boasts superior detailing and a look and feel that is extremely close to the original weapon. Inspired by the XD pistol line, it uses a special double-action/single-action trigger and striking authenticity to create an airsoft model equally suited to training, target shooting, airsoft practice, or even collecting.

It is equipped with a CO2 magazine with a capacity of 14 shots.

Its Blowback system provides excellent recoil feel, reinforcing its similarities to the real version. A functional takedown lever allows for identical disassembly, while the ambidextrous magazine release and safety make it easy to use right out of the box.

The XD-E features a fixed two-point rear sight and a windage-adjustable fiber optic red front sight for increased accuracy. It also features a single-notch Picatinny rail under the barrel, allowing for the addition of accessories such as lasers and lights.

The texture on the grip handle, faithful to the firearm version, combined with the grooves on the slide improve comfort and control.
